2. Mission of Committee

A. Review Responsibilities of the 7-11 Committee

Robert Adams Explained that the 7-11 committee consists of a minimum of seven (7) and no more than eleven (11) members. Each of the members fulfills a particular role. It is a legal requirement that there be an advisory committee before a school district or other local educational agency can lease or sell real property. The legislative intent is to have the community involved before decisions are made, avoiding community conflict and assuring building use that is compatible with the community's needs. The community involvement should facilitate making the best possible judgement about the use of excess school facilities in each individual situation. Members advise the Governing Board and Superintendent on the use or disposition of school buildings or space that is no longer needed for school purposes. The entire process is governed by Education Code § 17389.

3. Presentation of State and Board of Education Mandates

Presentation of State Mandates and Board Policies were distributed and discussed.

California law also designates the specific duties of a 7-11 Committee (Education Code § 17390) as follows:

- a) Review the projected school enrollment and other data as provided by the district to determine the amount of surplus space and real property;
- b) Establish a priority list of use of surplus space and real property that will be acceptable to the community;
- c) Cause to have circulated throughout the attendance area a priority list of surplus space and real property and provide for hearings of community input to the Committee on acceptable uses of space and real property, including the sale or lease of surplus real property for purposes pursuant to Education Code § 17458;
- d) Make a final determination of limits of tolerance of use of space and real property;
- e) Forward to the Board of Trustees a report recommending uses of surplus space and real property.
